

The Seven Spirits Of God

The divine cardinal virtues of Love, Holiness and Order glaringly manifests throughout the animate and inanimate Creation of God. They testify of the greater character and personality of the Creator Himself. They testify of his precision and his perfection. They manifest his Might, Sovereignty and Glory being All in All over all things.

Since God is unsearchable, we can only know the much of Him that is revealed to us by grace. As we access him and relate with him, the vision of who God is to us is made clearer and clearer until the perfect vision is established in our Spirit man. The scriptures parades men of like passion such as prophets Isaiah, Ezekiel, Daniel as well as John the Apostle who had a measure of ascent and revelation each, to the throne and essence of the Godhead. For each of them, it could only have been a spiritual ascent in the spirit for a spiritual encounter with the Throne. All their experiences though in the spirit, could only be interpreted within the limits of the language of man. That limitation notwithstanding, the character and personality of God can still be summed up in perfection for being the custodian of knowledge, understanding, wisdom, truth, mercy, justice and judgment. Not only the custodian but also the giver of all these spiritual virtues to the Creation of his Hands.

John the Apostle in his ascent saw seven lamps of fire burning around the essence of God which are the seven spirits of God. What a mystery to be revealed – the singular Spirit of God yet of seven spirits? The perfection of the divinity of God is eternally established.
